BY LAURA ELLEN BEALE.

GLEN ECHO

possessed a fascination for Eleanor

Wade which was hard to resist, and every opportunity which afforded it—self found her either on her way to that beautiful little park, or seated upon a rustic bench in some secluded nook. Usually she had a book or magazine with her, but it would often lie neglected upon the seat, while her gaze was fixed upon the magical and ever changing hues

of the Virginia hills on the opposite side of the Potomac river.

To Eleanor, this spot was far more beautiful than any cultivated park in the world. Here Nature asserted her rights to the full, and where Art played a part, it was only to enhance the beauty of the wonderfully picturesque scenery.

There were pretty rustic bridges over the narrow chasms; there were artistic stairways built down the steep sides of the cliffs, and innumerable benches and chairs of fantastic shapes were placed in delightfully cool and shady nooks, or out upon ledges of rock, overhanging deep ravines.

To one of the latter Eleanor always came, and if she found it already occupied her disappointment was keen. That particular seat,

"our bench," they had called it, was sacred to the memory of many hours of happiness, and today the young girl's thoughts dwelt lovingly upon them. She remembered a thousand and one little incidents; trivial events, of no importance at the time, but now, delightful to look back upon. The future without Hal Burton loomed up before her blankly. Her eyes filled with tears, and there was a pain

in her heart which she found it impossible to assuage.

It was in vain that she tried to become interested in the beauty of the scene before her. Down at the foot of the steep banks, she saw the boats passing up and down the sluggish canal. Then she looked beyond, over the pretty little wooded island where the roof of the Pleasure Club house could be seen between the trees, to the many rocks in the river, around which the waters of the Potomac eddied and whirled unceasingly, rendering navigation above Washington impossible, but making a picture far too difficult for the brush of mortal man.

"Ah, yes, Hal could paint that water!" Eleanor declared mentally.

Among her most highly prized treasures was a sketch of the river and a glimpse of the Virginia hills, which Hal had been making on the day her party had accidentally come upon him in this very spot. It was here he had been introduced to her,

here, some time later, he had asked her to be his wife. Here it was,

she promised, and then had followed those many delightful months.

Today the thoughts of the unhappy girl continually drifted back over the hours, oh, such happy times, spent in these woods and the Chautauqua grounds adjoining,

where she and her lover wandered like two children, finding "tongues in trees, books in running brooks, sermons in stones, and good in everything."

Alas! it was here they had quarrelled; what it had all been about,

the girl could scarcely remember.

Both were foolishly quick, both proud. To who was at fault, Eleanor now gave no thought; she would have taken the blame and asked forgiveness for her hasty words, fault or no fault, if he had but come to her; but he did not,

and she could not ask him. Not long afterward she had gone abroad

with her parents, and when she returned to Washington it was only to learn that Hal had left the city.

She caught her breath sharply and pressed her hand against her heart as if to quiet its violent throbbing, when a sudden thought flashed into her mind. Perhaps he did not care; perhaps his was merely a fancy. No, no! She felt that he had suffered too, for he loved her; of that she was convinced, and as she sat thinking of the happy past and the dreary future without him, she vowed to herself that if she ever saw him again she would speak to him and explain, even if he did not come to her. But where was he? Would

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

County Conventions at County Seats on July 19th, 1902. District Convention, at West Liberty, Ky., July 24th, 1902.

HOPKINS.—HON. F. A. HOPKINS, of Floyd county, is hereby announced as a candidate for the democratic nomination for congress from the Tenth district, subject to action of the democratic party.

DAVIS.—JUDGE AMOS DAVIS, of Morgan county, is herewith announced as a candidate for the democratic nomination for congress from the Tenth district, subject to action of the democratic party.

The Mt. Sterling papers announce the fact that their fellow citizen, John C. Wood, will be a candidate to succeed himself as railroad commissioner in this district. While for the sake of party we should very much like to see some good democrat succeed Mr. Wood, the chances to realize such a consummation are very small indeed, as the district is largely republican, and if a republican must hold the office, we know of none who would be more acceptable than John Wood. He is one of the most affable young men in the state, fair in his politics, and altogether quite a nice gentleman. But while there is life there is hope, and if any democrat has the temerity to offer we shall pull for his success. And again, if a republican must go, why let it be Wood.

Catarth

Is an excessive secretion from the mucous membrane, accompanied with chronic inflammation. Hood's Sarsaparilla acts on the mucous membrane through the blood, and rids the system of all cases of catarrh. Take Hood's.

Honor to Whom 'Tis Due.

Notwithstanding the fact that our town has been filled with people for a week past there has not been a word spoken or a scene enacted to disturb the serenity of visitors or cause our citizens to blush in shame. And we point to this fact with pride, and doubt very much if there be another town in the state that could boast as good behavior under similar circumstances. Our efficient police judge, H. F. Pieratt, determined in advance that order should be maintained and selected a force of officers to see that it was done. To him, therefore, is due the honor of having the best order throughout this week of excitement. No pistol shooting, no drinking, no loud or lascivious language, was heard or seen. Indeed we are proud.

Saved From An Awful Fate.

"Everybody said I had consumption," writes Mrs. A. M. Shields, of Chambersburg, Pa., "I was so low after six months of severe sickness, caused by hay fever and asthma, that few thought I could get well, but I learned of the marvelous merit of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, used it, and was completely cured." For desperate throat and lung diseases it is the safest cure in the world, and is infallible coughs, colds and bronchial affections. Guaranteed 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at J. T. Day, Hazel Green, or S. S. Combs & Sons, Campton, druggists.

Lost—Somewhere between J. T. Day's mill and Taylor Johnson's residence a purse containing $7.00 in cash—a $5 bill and a $2 bill, and some change. Finder will be liberally rewarded by returning to Garrett Combs.

HAZEL GREEN ACADEMY.

The Commencement Week is Inaugurated With the Young Men's Declarations.

After music by Misses Crosse and Daniel and Mrs. Russel and an impressive invocation by Rev. Allen R. Moore, the commencement week program of Hazel Green academy opened Saturday night at 8 o'clock. The first declamation was "Karl, the Martyr," which was delivered by John S. Cisco of White Oak, who did full justice to his subject and displayed many evidences of oratory.

Next came Wm. Lee Perkins of Lee City, whose subject was "The Gladiator," and he, too, showed that he is destined to deliver many addresses to the people if forensic ability be a consideration.

The third speaker to attract the attention of the audience and the plaudits of the people and prove the prize winner, was Lawrence C. Gambill of Caney, his subject being "Shipwreck." His pose, gestures and voice showed that he mastered his subject thoroughly, and demonstrated that he was exerting every effort to win, which he did in the judgment of the gentlemen chosen as judges, and their verdict has only been questioned by the admirers of the respective contestants. Consensus of opinion concedes it to him, however, and satisfaction is the result. He has eloquence, grace and the other attributes of a speaker, and should he fail to come to the front in the forum he will have fooled all who heard him Saturday night.

Misses Crosse and Sample then delighted the audience with a musical selection entitled "Mennette," which they beautifully rendered on the piano forte.

"Constantius and the Lion" was then rendered by Taylor Shockey of Lee City, who showed the embryo orator in many essentials and elicited exclamations of exuberance. He, too, had many warm supporters.

"A Murderer's Confession," by James H. Dunn, also of Lee City, followed in regular order, and the speaker impressed all by his earnest effort. Like the others, Jimmie showed many good features of forensic force, and the future well fitted to send him to the fore.

"The March of Mind," which was recited by Lenox Swango of Maytown, came next and was the last, but in its delivery Mr. Swango was by no means least in force. The subject was well chosen for the occasion, and the speaker handled it in a statesmanlike spirit.

Rev. Allen R. Moore of Lancaster, Ky., Kelley Nickell, esq., of Morgan county, and Hon. W. O. Mize of our town were the judges. The latter gentleman told the writer that the young declaimers had each so many good points that the decision was indeed difficult. But each of them were graded fairly with the result as announced, and that no second choice was considered. All should feel proud of the ability displayed.

Music, the decision of judges, awarding medals, and the benediction closed the night's entertainment.

On Sunday the people were the recipients of a rare treat at the Christian church in the morning when Rev. Mr. Moore delivered the baccalaureate sermon. His subject, "Our Ideals," was chosen for its application to the situation—the lives we lead and the lives we should lead—and he handled it in a masterful manner, pointing the importance of making our ideals the grandest in the conception of christianity, and alike the importance of living the ideal life. In brief it was one of the finest pieces of pulpit logic ever delivered in this locality. His address to the Young People's Society Christian Endeavor, which he delivered at night was also well delivered and well received.

Monday night was given up to the juveniles and intermediates, who rendered an amusing operetta, interspersed with instrumental music by the magical touch of Miss Mabel Crosse, the lady musical instructor. The flowers, the bees, the birds and the frogs were produced in song and story. The impersonation of bird, bee and frog were all well done, and the singing was superb. Credit for this performance is, we believe, due in the main to Miss May Davenport, who is a teacher in the junior department.

On Tuesday night at 8 o'clock instrumental piece of music by Misses Mattie Cord and Pearl Day and Robert Cord introduced the program. Prayer was offered by Rev. B. W. Trimble of Mt. Sterling, then music by Pearl and Daisy Day and Roxie Daniel, when "The Dream of Eugene Aram," a declamation, was recited by Miss Nevada Nickell of Hazel Green, in the rendering of which she displayed a most wonderful dramatic talent, and all who heard her and witnessed her postures and gestures, her facial expressions and the intonation of her voice believed she must win. It was a difficult piece, indeed, but it was handled with the skill of a born actress, and called for loud applause.

The next was "Vesuvius and the Egyptian," rendered by Miss Beulah Thomas of West Liberty. It, too, required dramatic talent, but not more than Miss Thomas displayed were possible. She has a strong voice, which she is capable of pitching to a high key, and in witnessing her enacting of this piece many pronounced her queen of tragedy. She has many marks of the trained artist, and this with a superior voice probably won her the medal, though her vanquished rival is a foe worthy her powers.

Next "The Story of Patsy," the rendition of which displayed rare conversational powers in Miss Lillian Hurst of Peartree, Breathitt county. But it was so different from the two preceding pieces as not to be classed in the same line, though it was well received and received rounds of applause.

After an instrumental piece by Miss Mattie Cord, came the young men's orations. "The Curse of Power," by George Amyx of Daysboro, showed much thought and painstaking in composition but in its delivery Mr. Amyx's voice was too weak to do it justice.

"Shadows of Perpetuity," by Stephen G. Sample of Lacy Creek, demanded attention of the audience next. Conception and composition both showed careful study and his delivery was good, also, so that many thought he would win.

"Forces That Win," by J. LeRoy Boggs of Wellington, was replete with gems of thought, and the composition was carefully considered in every detail. Mr. Boggs' delivery was quite distinct, his pronunciation perfect, and his gesticulations graceful. Perhaps he showed that he had given elocution more study than his predecessors, we know not, but he was awarded the medal.

"True success in life," by Elisha Rose of Stillwater, was perhaps the best piece of composition in its entirety that was offered, but in its delivery he failed to articulate plainly, and but for this he was a strong competitor for the medal.

Judge Blair of Morgan, Rev. B. W. Trimble of Mt. Sterling, and Charley Scott, the genial passenger and freight agent of the L. & E. railroad were the judges, and they compared notes at the close of the contest. As between Miss Thomas and Miss Nickell some of the judges hesitated where to put the prize—one, at least.

"Under the Laurels," was given by students of the academy Wednesday night for the benefit of the cottage fund, and amateur theatrical talent was portrayed throughout the play. Some of the actors and actresses displayed great talent and had their parts perfectly, but we refrain from naming any lest some be made mad. Altogether the play was very good, but it was marred by some coaching. Were all to perfect their parts this play is good enough to grace the stage of any country town, to whom it would indeed prove a rare treat.

Six young ladies graduated from the academy this term. Each of them prepared a thesis and Wednesday morning each of them were read by their authors at academy chapel before a large and select audience. The applause after the reading of each paper attested the appreciation of the audience better than we can tell it.

Three young men at the same place and about the same time delivered orations in honor of graduates. Deafening applause greeted each young man as he bowed his obedience to the audience, thus attesting the joy of the assembled people.

MEDALS AWARDED.

Young men's declamatory contest—medalist: Lawrence Gambill, Caney, Ky.

Young women's declamatory contest—medalist: Miss Beulah Thomas, West Liberty, Ky.

Young men's oratorical contest—medalist: J. Leroy Boggs, Wellington, Ky.

Scholarship—Robert I. Cord. Deportment and attendance—Daisy Day.

Music—medal given by Noah Cisco—Pearl Day.

General merit—Rosa Coldiron. Gold watches—both given by W. O. Mize—Sue Long, Sellers; S. G. Sample, Lacy creek.

Mrs. Ida W. Harrison of Lexington, addressed them on the subject of "Culture, Character, Service," and not only did the students pronounce it grand but all the people who heard it will praise it for all time. It was a gem.

Sunday School Convention.

The Sunday-school convention convened here Wednesday. Elder R. B. Neale was present and fully explained the object of the organization. Unfortunately there had been no concerted or full effort to bring together the churches of the county. Therefore, the attendance was only local. However, an organization was effected for future work, to-wit: Noah Cisco, president; W. O. Mize, secretary, and an executive committee appointed, consisting of S. S. Combs, Chas. Cecil and Mrs. F. N. Day. This committee and the officers will organize the county, and hope to make Wolfe one of the "banner" counties.

EDITORIAL EFFUSIONS.

Sam Jones at Home.

The place to take the measure of a man is not in the market place or forum, but at his fireside. There he lays aside his mask and you learn whether he is an imp or an angel, king or cur, hero or humbug. I do not care a copper what the world says of him, whether it crowns him with glory or pelts him with eggs. I care not what religion he may have. If his babies dread his coming home and his better half swallows her heart when she asks him for a $3 bill, he is a fraud of the first water, even though he prays night and morning until he shakes the eternal hills. But if his children run to the front gate to meet him and love's own sunshine illumines the face of his wife when she hears his footsteps, you can take it for granted he is pure gold—his home is a heaven and a humbug never gets near the throne of God. He may be a rank atheist and a red-flag anarchist, a Mormon and mugwump, he may buy votes, bet on elections, he may deal from the bottom and drink beer until he can't tell a silver dollar from a circular saw, and still be better than the man who is suavity, but who makes home hell, who vents on his helpless wife and children the ill nature he would like to inflict on his fellow man, but dares not. I can forgive much in a fellow mortal who would rather make men swear than women weep, would rather have the hate of all the world than the contempt of his wife, who would rather call anger to the face of a man than fear to the face of a child.

The above may fail to picture an ideal christian, but it beautifully and eloquently pictures an ideal model husband. No matter how zealous a man may be in his religious pretensions, he may at least be a scoundrel, a hypocrite and a humbug, and the worst sort of an unkind, cruel husband. It is palpably wrong for a man to debauch and degrade himself in drunkenness and sin, and still be tenfold a better man and husband than the man who makes the justly proud boast that he never touched a drop of intoxicants in life. There are absolutely sober men, who, if they would quit their present evil-doing, and take to drinking to extravagant excess would do their families a justice and be better thought of by a right-thinking community. Their soberness is but a screen behind which are covered deeds too infamous to describe. Undiscovered hypocrisy will cover a multitude of sins. It is more honorable to drink a little and be true as steel to his family than to be a perfectly sober man and be guilty of acts of infidelity on every opportunity presented. Verily, at the fireside is the place to measure the worth of any man.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT's speech on Decoration Day is a corker of the "Cow Boy" variety. It is brimful of knock-down blows to the over-railing critics of the administration in the Philippine Islands. That speech stamps Roosevelt as the foremost and ablest defender of the American republic. Teddy is no milk-and-cider man. All know exactly where and how he stands on every vital question before the people. He is an ideal American citizen that will do to pattern after.

THE deepest oil well in the United States is being drilled by the Forest Oil Company at West Elizabeth, Pa. When it is completed it will be 6,000 feet deep. Here's betting a ginger cake that oil can be had in abundance in this county without drilling one-fifth that distance.

LOCAL LACONICS.

The wife of Reubin Smith is on the sick list.

Miss Tamer Tolson has been on the sick list.

Clerk Tutt reports marriage license issued for B. C. Alexander to Nannie L. Crow, both of Booth, this county.

By special act of congress Mrs. Sidney Cabell, widow of Coon Cabell, has been allowed a pension at $8 per month.

Warrants were sworn out Monday against John and Howard Moore, charging them with the illegal sale of liquor.

Robert Carpenter and J. C. Hurst have been cracking jokes at one another in political form. Verily, Campton has her talent.

A. F. Byrd, commonwealth's attorney, came home from Breathitt circuit court last Saturday, but went back on Monday.

County court convened here Monday with His Honor, J. W. Congleton on the bench, and C. C. Fulks, slashing the pitchfork, as county attorney.

Prof. F. D. Palmeter has resigned the principalship of the K. W. A. at this place. It is thought that he will be succeeded by Prof. Clark of Hindman.

Last week County Judge Congleton received a letter from a woman, in which she claims to be the lawful wife of Jim Webb, and makes inquiry as to his whereabouts.

C. C. Fulks and G. B. Stamper, last Friday, attended Magistrate J. M. Lovelace's court in the Flat. It is safe to say no blind-tigers showed their snake heads while these attorneys were about.

The June issue of The Authors Magazine, published at Detroit, Michigan, pays the editor of the Campton Courier, a high compliment by classing him as one of the leading literary writers of Kentucky.

Last Friday was Decoration Day. The people of Campton and vicinity assembled at the cemetery and there paid a beautiful tribute of loving respect to the sacred dead by profusely decorating their last resting places with flowers and ferns, &c.

Last Saturday evening Campton was enlivened by a regular rough-tough-whiskey-ready fist fight. The officers were trying to arrest Arkill Collins and Mort Lacy for disorderly conduct which precipitated the row. Some bruised heads, but no death-killing execution done.

M. F. Horton of Lane, is here this week to make out the tax book for Sheriff Stamper. The taxes for 1902 have been due ever since last March; but the sheriff had to await the action of the state board of equalization before commencing the collection of taxes. The state board has increased taxes on real and personal property one per cent. and on town lots three per cent. in this county.

Misses Ollie Henry of Bonny, Morgan county, and Mahala Rose of Lee City, two charming young ladies, made THE HERALD office a friendly visit Monday morning. The latter is a pupil of Hazel Green academy.

Virulent Cancer Cured.

Startling proof of a wonderful advance in medicine is given by druggist G. W. Roberts of Elizabeth, W. Va. An old man there had long suffered with what good doctors pronounced incurable cancer. They believed his case hopeless till he used Electric Bitters and applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve, which treatment completely cured him. When Electric Bitters are used to expel bilious, kidney and microbe poisons at the same time this salve exerts its matchless healing power, blood diseases, skin eruptions, eczema and sores vanish. Bitters 50c, salve 25c at J. Taylor Day, Hazel Green, and S. S. Combs & Sons, Campton, drug stores. Guarantee satisfaction.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood. If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work. Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is overworking in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries. It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble. If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail. Home of Swamp-Root, free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

Letter From Jim Tom Pieratt.

PARKER, KANS., May 26, 1902.
BRO. COOPER:

Dear Sir:—I landed at Parker April 12th, and found a beautiful town of about 300 inhabitants. This town has three churches, one good school, a bank and one newspaper. This town is situated about 60 miles south of Kansas City, on one branch of the M. K. & T. R. R., and exceeds in grandeur anything Crock Goldiron can polish up with his mules about old Hazel Green. I am stopping with Billie Oldfield's, formerly of Mogan county, Ky., who married a daughter of Miles Nickell. There are quite a number of Kentuckians living in this town and vicinity. Morrison Nickell lives in town, and a few more Kentuckians which I have had the pleasure of meeting with—some of the Oakleys, Cockrells, Days, Caskeys, Bryants, Ballard Jones, Wash Ingram an old schoolmate and family, and W. T. Ingram and Jasper Williams and many others too tedious to mention.

I have made quite an improvement in health since I came here; have preached one week, had two additions. This is next to Canan, that country God promised to the children of Israel, for health and beauty. Prospects are exceedingly fine for crops with lots of rain, and everything is looking exceedingly fine. Yours, fraternally,
J. T. PIERATT.

Leads Them All.

"One Minute Cough Cure beats all other medicines I ever tried for coughs, colds, croup and throat and lung troubles," says D. Scott Currin of Loganton, Pa. One Minute Cough Cure is the only absolutely safe cough remedy which acts immediately. Mothers everywhere testify to the good it has done their little ones. Croup is so sudden in its attacks that the doctor often arrives too late. It yields at once to One Minute Cough Cure; pleasant to take; children like it. Sure cure for grip, bronchitis, coughs.

Angora Meat.

As a food there is no meat that is purer or more tender. It is better than mutton, as there is not that excessive fat to contend with that is found on sheep. This is a good feature in the Angora venison. In their feeding habits they are very similar to a deer, which alone is sufficient proof of the merits of their food qualities. A young kid is as dainty a morsel as can be found in the meat line. The wealthy people of St. Louis recently took up the fad of eating young Angora venison, and, as a result, it is now a regular portion of their fare; and that fact has done a great deal toward obviating the prejudice which has so long existed against the Angora venison as a food. Angora mutton is now being sold on the market at a fraction of a cent less than sheep mutton.—E. H. Jobson, Lake Valley, N. Mex.

Ready to Yield.

"I used DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve for piles and found it a certain cure," says S. R. Meredith, Willow Grove, Del. Operations unnecessary to cure piles. They always yield to DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve; cures skin diseases, all kinds of wounds. Accept no counterfeits.

It may be that Cuban reciprocity will be the wedge that will split the tariff log.

Hood Farm Auction Sale of Jerseys and Berkshires.

Hood Farm, Lowell, Mass., is so well known to the readers of this paper that it is not necessary to go into details in regard to the high quality of the stock owned at that great breeding establishment. June 11 and 12, 1902, they will sell to the highest bidder 180 head of Jersey cattle and 125 Berkshire hogs. This is the greatest sale of the kind ever held in New England. There is such a large number and many of the calves are so young, that those who do not wish to pay the high prices usually brought by registered stock will be able to get some very desirable individuals at a great bargain. Every dairyman and farmer can afford to get something to enrich his herd, either a bull, a heifer or a pig. It is the opportunity of a lifetime. Those who cannot go, but have friends who will attend should commission them to use their judgment in selecting something from these famous herds. The catalogue, which Hood Farm has published, gives a great deal of information to those interested in Jerseys and Berkshires, and it is a work of art. It will be sent to all who write for it.

Just as the people of St. Pierre were warned of the danger from a volcanic eruption the trusts have been warned of the danger of an eruption of the peoples' wrath. ## Heir to a $67,000 Estate.

Henry Devillard, a French chef at a local hotel in Lexington, Ky., claims he is heir to an estate valued at $67,000. He says his father, General Henry Devillard, was killed in the Franco-Prussian war, and that his mother, who died May 14, left him, the only child, the property. He was formerly chef at various Louisville hotels, and has sent his claim to the French Consul at Louisville. He says his home is at Rolla, Canton Vaud, France.

Our Only Hope.

Harris Arnett of Magoffin county, was here last week accompanied by his son Drury, who he placed under the care of Dr. Center for some nervous affection. Harris says there is much excitement over the prospect of oil in his county, and that the railroads having missed Salyersville and Hazel Green the best of the people of these towns can do is to go after oil. Of course he is right, and it is apparently the only hope for prosperity.

Quarreled With Her Husband.

As a result of a quarrel with her husband, Mrs. Peter Simons of Louisville, attempted suicide on May 27th, by pouring coal oil on her dress and touching it off with a match. Her husband suppressed the flame by enveloping her in a blanket. She was fearfully burned and is not expected to live. She was taken to the city hospital.

The Angora meat is preferable to mutton, as it does not have the woolly flavor so objectionable to many people. During the browsing season the meat has a venison flavor, but this is lost when corn is fed in the feed lot.—B. C. Johnston, Lawrence, Kans.

Vita-Ore Elixer my nerves were as steady as when I was 16 years of age, and I am now past 75. For more than a year I had been trying all the patent medicines and nostrums I could hear of to build myself up, but nothing did me any good until I used Vita-Ore, which my wife brought me from your house. After using it a week I went out and did three days' as hard work as I have done in 25 years, and I was not more fatigued than I was 25 years ago over the same work. It is the greatest medicine in the world, and I want everybody in the mountains to know what it did for me so they may try it. Hoping every one who has that tired feeling incident to old age will buy Vita-Ore of you and give it a fair trial. I remain, thankfully yours for putting me on to this remedy.

I can vouch for every word Mr. Lacy says in the above. I am his wife and bought the medicine of Mr. Cooper for him, though I did not have much faith in it, because we had tried so many things that did no good. I have also used Vita-Ore, and am stronger and in better health than for years, which I attribute to its use.
